MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

The home of Mrs. Ella McCann, on the Hating creek road, Fairfax county, about three miles south of this city, was the scene of a serious shooting affray early last Saturday night. Charles St. Clair, who is about 20 years old, shot and probably fatally injured John Bullock, aged 30. The true facts in connection with the shooting are difficult to obtain at present. St. Clair, who fled after his attack upon Bullock, and who was subsequently arrested in Washington, says he supposed Bullock was a burglar and fired at him in the dark. Another version of the affair is that the shooting was the result of a dispute between the two men, who were room mates, over some keys. Bullock, it is said, had just returned home from work at the Southern railway shops in this city, when St. Clair, who was in bed, asked him about some keys. Bullock, it is alleged, replied that he did not know. No sooner had he made the answer than St. Clair, it is charged, fired two point-blank at Bullock with a double barrel shotgun. Both shots were fired inside of the house where the two men roomed. Bullock, with blood flowing from his wounds, fled from the house, followed by St. Clair. As he got outside St. Clair pulled the trigger a third time, but the

AMUSEMENTS.

Another week has passed and, with all its newly-made history for this city, is numbered with the things that were. Again it's the duty of men and women to take up the reins of a practical life and press on to its final conclusion, when, it is said, there is rest for the weary. But incidental to the culmination of a happy or unhappy existence it would be well to get all out of it one can. The mills will not grudge with water that has passed, so the enjoyment of last week will not suffice for the present. As will be seen by the advertisement on this page a feast of pleasure is in store for all those who live amusement. The Opera House has an entire change of programme, including new and up-to-date vaudeville, which, as usual, is hard to beat. A glance at the names of those who perform tonight will convince everyone that this show is great.

At the Surprise Theatre Miles and Hart, clever comedy sketch artists, will be on the programme, and it is safe to presume you will be repaid for your trouble and the expense you go to by seeing them. Dirkie and Cavanaugh, a refined song and dance artists, will also entertain you to a surprising degree; and Ed Manchester will be on hand in a novel comedy act. This alone is worth the price of admission. The pictures will be among the best obtainable.

Let it be forgotten, it would be well to remember that the Alexandria Amusement Company will be prepared to furnish you with the latest talking and silent pictures, which, in fact, surprise everybody. The house is steadily growing in popularity and as it is about as cheap as any show on earth, and better than most picture exhibits seen in large cities, it is not to be wondered at. One picture you should not fail to see and that is "The Blind Violinist." It is a great picture.

...a good subject. This is very comical. Special attraction, La Patti Alma, the child artist, singing and dancing. She is very fine and you want to see and hear her.

THE RECENT MURDER CASE.

There is nothing new to report concerning Richard Pines, Eugene Dorsey, Calvin Johnson and Henry Smith, the four negroes, charged with murdering and robbing Walter F. Schultz, near this city, on the night of the 6th instant. The three first named are still in the Fairfax jail, while Smith is in the jail in a rumor.

A story was in circulation today to the effect that a colored woman, who lives on Cameron street, overheard Schultz's plea for mercy when the four men had their victim in the alley on the north side of Cameron street, between Payne and West, and she, being unable to keep the matter secret any longer, reported what she had heard to the police. Chief Goods, however, upon being interviewed this morning, said he had seen the woman referred to, but that she denied knowing anything about the matter. The chief was to have had another interview with the woman today.

REUNION OF ST. JOHN'S OADETS.

In order to add to the many interesting features of Old Home Coming Week there will be arranged a reunion of the boys who attended St. John's Academy up to the time its principal sought other fields of labor. It is proposed to call a meeting in a few days of the old students and devise ways and means of getting the survivors together at a grand rally during that week. The former students are scattered to the four corners of the earth, but an effort will be made to have a grand reunion of them on that occasion. The honored principal, Rev. Father Garth, is still alive and it would no doubt do him good to look upon his old boys in this, the evening of his life.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH CHOIR.

St. Paul's Church was well filled at the evening service yesterday to hear the choir sing Gounod's motet "Gallia." This difficult composition was sung in the most creditable manner, being one of the most beautiful services ever rendered by the choir. The rector made an appropriate address, reading the verses from Lamentations from which the text was taken. The soprano soloist, Mrs. De Dier, on whom most of the work fell, was at her best, her voice being easily heard above the large chorus in the organ. The organist and director, Mr. Fowler, was ably assisted by Mr. Fiel, and their careful training was shown in the fine work of the chorus.

CATCHING SHAD.

A number of Potomac shad are arriving daily and, although there have been none caught in the waters immediately adjacent to this city, Mr. Julian Della seems to be taking a few off Holland Point. In answer to a query from the captain of the tugboat Camilla on Saturday Mr. Della said he had caught five on one drift. The Alexandria fishermen, however, are catching some very fine rock and perch in their shad nets in the river off this city. Capt. Charles McKenney and his crew left for the lower river this morning to engage in the shad fishing. Others will follow about the middle of the week.

WANTS INFORMATION.

As was stated in the Gazette at the time, J. D. Austin, who had been conducting the commission business on north Fairfax street under the name of J. D. Austin & Co., disappeared about a week ago, since which time numerous queries concerning his whereabouts have been made. The unannounced closing of the business, as well as the sudden exodus of the proprietor gave rise to numerous speculations. A letter was received in this city today from Spencer, Va., asking information concerning the firm.

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

The address of Rev. Horace M. Dubose, of Nashville, Tennessee, General Secretary of the Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and editor of the Epworth Era, in the Young People's Building yesterday afternoon, was interesting and instructive throughout. His subject was "The Ministry of Manhood." The building will be closed next Sunday.

TO BUILD MODERN GARAGE.

Contract was today awarded to Mr. Samuel D. DeVaughan for a new garage for Dr. Hugh McGilre. The building will be complete and modern in every detail, being equipped with hot water heating plant, electric lights and bathroom. The structure will be in the colonial style to harmonize with the fine lines of the main house near which it will be erected. The building will be 22 by 24 feet and two stories in height, the second floor being used for servants' rooms and will contain a complete bathroom. The entire first floor will be of cement and will give ample space for two machines. Gasoline tanks will be built in the cement floor, as a precaution against accident. The plans were prepared by Milton Dana Morrill, an architect of this city, who is also the designer of the new Surprise Theatre just completed and the First National Bank now under construction.

CONVICTS ESCAPE.

The police have been requested to look out for Wallace Chapman, aged 20; Jake Butler, 24 and Alexander Wheatley, 21 all colored, who escaped from a convict camp near the Plains, Fauquier county, last Saturday. R. E. Mitchell, the superintendent in charge of the convicts, states that he will pay a reward of $20 for the capture of each of the fugitives. The men were dressed in prison stripes, with caps to match, when they escaped. Two of the men were serving three-year sentences, and the other one a five year sentence.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The annual memorial services of Alva Aerie, No. 871, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of this city, will be held in the lodgeroom of the order, in the Alexandria National Bank building, next Sunday afternoon. Past Worthing President Bernard Goss, of Nome, Alaska, and other prominent members of the order are expected to deliver addresses.

INSTRUCTIVE ENTERTAINMENT.

An amusing and at the same time an interesting and instructive entertainment will open at Armory Hall on Wednesday next—March 24. It is the Industrial and Pure Food Exhibition. There are many exhibitors and the decorations are profuse, showing the labor and taste of a master of the art of decoration. One of the interesting features is the marriage which will take place at the hall and there is still an opportunity for several more couples to be started on the road to happiness by applying to the manager for the chance. Remember that this will be one of the most novel of the many sources of entertainment ever furnished the people. Don't fail to be present the opening night. The couples who are married on this night will receive many handsome presents.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]
The following cases were disposed of this morning:

A young white man, charged, with disorderly conduct, was dismissed with an admonition.
Eliza Muller, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited her collateral by failing to appear.

Mary Pierson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was dismissed.

DEATHS.

When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, this remedy will prevent the attack. It is used successfully in many thousands of homes. For sale by W. F. O'Leary & Co. and Richard Gibson.
